Original Sheet: 2

DEFINITIONS

Basic Telephone Service

For the purpose of establishing rates and charges, basic telephone service is one- or four-party business or residential local line service.

Building (Same)

The term "same building" is to be interpreted as a structure under one roof, or two or more structures under separate roofs but connected by enclosed passageways in which the wires or cables of the company can be safely run provided the plant facility requirements are not appreciably greater than would be required normally if all structures were under one roof. In those cases where there are several structures under separate roofs but connected by enclosed passageways and the plant facility requirements for furnishing service are appreciably greater, than would be required normally if all the structures were under one roof, the term "same building" applies individually to each of the separate structures. Pipes and conduits are not considered enclosed passageways.

Business Service

Telecommunications service provided a customer where the use is primarily or substantially of a business, professional, institutional or otherwise occupational nature.

Cancellation Charge

A charge applicable under certain conditions when an application for service and/or facilities is cancelled in whole or in part prior to the completion of the work involved.

Central Office

A switching unit in a telephone system which provides service to the general public, having the necessary equipment and operating arrangement for terminating and interconnecting customer lines and trunks or trunks only. There may be more than one central office in a building or exchange.

Call Forwarding

A central office service optional feature which automatically routes incoming calls to another predetermined number.

Call Waiting

A tone provided to the party using the telephone to indicate another party is using the line. Successive transfers between calling parties can be accomplished by hookswitch operation.

Call

An attempted or completed communication.

Centrex Service

Service providing a business telephone customer with direct inward dialing to its phone extensions and direct outward dialing from them.

Channel

A path for communication between two or more central offices, furnished in such a manner as the carrier may elect, whether by wire, radio, or a combination thereof and whether or not by a single physical facility or route.

Class of Service

A description of telecommunications service furnished a customer which denotes such characteristics as nature of use -- business or residence -- (public or semi-public) or type of rate (flat rate or message rate). Classes of service are usually subdivided in "grades" such as one-party, two-party, four-party and multi-party.

Coin Telephone

A station, either public or semi-public, equipped with a device for collecting money in payment of telephone messages.

Commission

Kentucky Public Service Commission

Communication Systems

Communication Systems are channels or other facilities which are capable, when not connected to the telecommunications systems, of two-way communications between customer-provided terminal equipment or Company stations.

Connecting Arrangement

The equipment provided by the Company to accomplish the direct electrical connection of customer-provided facilities with the facilities of the Company, or of facilities of the Company with other facilities of the Company.

Construction Charge

A separate non-recurring charge made to the construction of facilities in excess of those contemplated under the rates quoted in Section VI of the Tariff.

Continuous Property

The plot of ground, together with any buildings thereon, occupied by the customer, which is not divided by public highways or separated by property occupied by others. Where a customer occupies property on both sides of a street, alley, highway, body of water, railroad right-of-way, etc., and the properties would otherwise be continuous, such properties are treated as continuous property provided local wire or cable facilities are used and the customer furnishes all local distribution pole line facilities or underground conduit required in connection therewith.

Contract

The arrangement between a customer and the Company under which service and facilities are furnished in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Tariff.

Customer

A person, firm, partnership, corporation, municipality, cooperative, organization, governmental agency, etc., provided with telecommunications service by any utility.

Customer-Provided Terminal Equipment

Devices or apparatus and their associated wiring, provided by a customer, which do not constitute a communications system and which, when connected to the communications path of telecommunications system, are so connected either electrically, acoustically or inductively.

Custom Calling Services

Service features available through a central office for use in connection with a customer's local exchange service.

Demarcation Point

The term "demarcation point", when used in connection with customer-provided communication systems, denotes the point on the customer's premises where network access lines provided by or furnished to the customer are terminated in switching equipment used, at least in part, for communications with customer-provided terminal equipment.

Directory Listings

The publication in the Company's directory of information relative to a customer's telephone number, by which telephone users may ascertain the call number of a desired station.

- a. Caption Listing: The listing of a customer's name without address or telephone number followed by a series of indented listings covering branches or different departments of the business.
- b. Foreign Listing: The listing of a customer in the alphabetical list of an exchange other than that for the exchange from which the customer is served.
- c. Free Listing: A directory listing for which no specific charge is made.
- d. Indented Listing: A directory listing indented under another listing.
- e. Reference Listing: The listing of a generally accepted name of a firm or corporation followed by a reference to another listing.

Drop Wire

Wires used to connect the circuits of open wire, aerial or underground distribution facilities to the point where connection is made with the inside wiring.

Exchange

A unit established by a telephone utility for the administration of telecommunications service in a specific area for which a separate local rate schedule is provided. It may consist of one or more central offices, together with associated plant facilities used in furnishing telecommunication services in that area.

Exchange Area

The territory, including the Base Rate Area and surrounding territory served by an Exchange.

Exchange Boundary

The defined limit of the exchange service area beyond which service provision must be specifically requested, and if available, provided for additional charges as may be herein defined.

DEFINITIONS

Exchange Line

Any circuit connecting an exchange station with a central office. Any line (circuit) directly or indirectly connecting an exchange station with a central office. Exchange lines are subdivided as follows:

- a. Central Office Line: A circuit extending from a central office to the location of an individual line, party line, main station service, PBX, or Key System.
- b. Main Station Line: The circuit portion of a main station which extends from the main service location to the central office.
- c. Extension Station Line: The circuit portion of an extension station which extends from the extension service location to the main service location or a central connecting point of the main service.
- d. Extension Line: A circuit with characteristics similar to an extension station line.
- e. PBX Station Line: The circuit portion of a PBX station which extends from the PBX station service location to the PBX switchboard or dial switching equipment.
- f. Key Station Line: The circuit portion of a key station which extends from the key station serving location to the key system common equipment location.
- g. Tie-Line: A circuit connecting PBX systems, ESSX-1 and/or Centrex systems.

Exchange Service

The furnishings of facilities for telecommunicating within an exchange area, in accordance with the regulations and charges specified in the Company's tariffs. Exchange facilities are used to establish and maintain connections between an exchange station and the other telephone plant and facilities in connection with long distance calls or extended area service calls.

Extended Area Service

A type of telephone service furnished under tariff provisions whereby customers of a given exchange may complete calls to and, where provided by the tariff, receive messages from one or more exchanges without the application of long distance message telecommunications charges.

Primary Subscriber

This term has the same connotation as "subscriber" and is used in those cases where it is desirable to stress the distinction between the main subscriber to telephone service and others who may have joint use of the service or who may qualify for additional listings.

Private Branch Exchange Service (PBX Service)

- a. A type of service providing an arrangement of switching equipment and telephone instruments for intercommunications among the stations and for connections through the local and long distance message telephone network to other subscribers.
- b. Lines (circuits), equipment and facilities ordinarily furnished in connection with PBX service include the following:
 - 1. Trunk: A network access line connecting a PBX system with a central office.
 - 2. Tie Line: A circuit connecting PBX switchboards.

Private Line Service

As opposed to exchange service, this refers to lines and equipment furnished to a customer for direct communication between various points without access to the Company's exchange switching network.

Private Line

A circuit provided to furnish communication among two or more network terminal equipment directly connected to it. Such equipment does not have access to the general and interexchange networks.

Public Telephone

A telephone installed at the Company's initiative or option, at a location chosen or accepted as suitable and necessary for furnishing service to the general public.

- a. Coin Public Telephone: A public telephone equipped with a coin collecting device into which all payments for the use of the telephone are deposited prior to (prepayment) or at (post-payment) the time the desired connection is established.

Rate Centers

Points upon which the airline distances for the determination of message toll telephone rates are based. In general, each city, town, or locality is designated as a rate center except that certain small towns and localities are assigned adjacent rate centers with which they are closely associated for communication purposes or by community of interest.

Residence Service

Service furnished to customers where the actual or obvious use is for domestic purposes.

Semi-Public Telephone

An instrument generally including a coin box, furnished at locations reasonably accessible to the public, but not suitable for the installation of public telephones.

Service

The act or means of supplying communication to the public.

Service Connection Charge

A non-recurring charge applying to the establishment or basic telephone service for a subscriber and certain subsequent additions to that service.

Standard Network Interface

The points of common termination of company-provided and customer-provided facilities. Sometimes referred to as the standard network interface (SNI).

Subscriber

Any person, firm, partnership, corporation, municipality, cooperative organization or governmental agency furnished communication service by the Company under the provisions and regulation of its tariff.

Suspension of Service

An arrangement made at the request of the customer, or initiated by the Company for violation of tariff regulations by the customer, for temporarily discontinuing service without terminating the service agreement.

System

The coordinated facilities, including central office equipment, outside plant and subscriber terminal equipment, used to provide telephone service to the public.

Tariff

The rates, charges, rules and regulations adopted and filed by the Company and accepted by the Kentucky Public Service Commission.

Telephone Number

A designation assigned to a network access line necessary for placing calls to the subscriber terminal equipment and for identification in the assessment of message charges, etc.

Telephone Instrument

Any communication device, either owned and leased by the Company to the customer, or owned by the customer, that can be used when connected to the Company's local network for the purpose of transmitting and receiving information.

Temporary Service

For the purpose of distinguishing between permanent and temporary service, temporary service is "any" service provided by the company which (1) does not fulfill the requirements of a minimum service contract, (2) would create an unusual expense for the Company caused by the short duration of service.

Temporary Disconnection

An arrangement made at the request of the customer for temporarily discontinuing service without terminating the contract or removing the telephone equipment from the customer's premises.

Termination Charge

A charge applied when a subscriber discontinues an item of service or equipment prior to the expiration of the initial service period designated for such item. The basic termination charge is an amount established for an individual item of service or equipment from which the termination charge is computed.

Tie Trunk

Toll Center

A telephone switching center at which the operations (manual or dial) function (message timing, switching, and recording) takes place in connection with the provision of toll message service.

Toll Message

A message from a calling party to a party in a different local service area.

Toll Rate

The initial period charge prescribed for toll messages usually based upon a minimum initial period and distance between exchanges.

Toll Service

Toll service is that part of the total telephone service rendered by the Telephone Company which is furnished between patrons in different local service areas in accordance with the rates and regulations specified in the Company's Tariff.

Touch Calling Service

A classification of exchange service whereby calls are originated through the use of tone-generating pushbuttons in lieu of pulse-generating pushbutton or rotary dials.

Trunk Line

A circuit over which customer's messages are sent between two central offices or between a central office and a private branch exchange system.

Trunk Hunt Service

An arrangement whereby two or more lines furnished to customer are assigned number in sequence and equipped so calls to the first number are automatically completed to the first non-busy line in the sequence. Lines beyond the first line are referred to as "rotary lines."

Underground Service Connections

A customer's "drop" wire which is run underground from a pole line or an underground distributing cable.
